When my brother's cat had been missing for four days, we moved beyond concerned and started losing hope that Romulus was ever coming home. Since Jenny had helped me with my roommate's cat in the past, I called her. She was able to help us that very night! She spoke with Rom and told us that he was still alive but lost. He told her he was locked in an area and didn't know how to get out or where he was but he didn't think he was too far from home. This gave us new hope! We hung posters around town and went door-to-door trying to find him. Sadly our initial efforts did not pay off. We thought maybe someone decided they wanted to keep him. Four days later my brother was outside and heard him! He followed Rom's meow to our neighbor's barn and found Rom inside! Here he was next door, locked in a barn the whole time. Rom is now home and doing great. Thanks to Jenny for letting us know to not give up. I am so happy to have her wonderful services as a resource!

Hi Jenny! I am so thankful you were able to come over and meet our new dog Buddy. I am not a "dog-person", so I was a little apprehensive about getting a dog, but when our family decided to get a dog, I really liked the idea of getting one from a rescue. After finding some things out about Buddy's background, I was not sure if I wanted to even keep him. After having our session with you, I was able to better understand how he was feeling being new in our home. You really sensed his feelings so well and it made me understand the stress he was also feeling in our home. He is doing much better, although still being a little grouchy with our youngest son. We are working on it and if it weren't for you, he would not still be with us. Thanks again!

Thieves, I love that oil! I use Thieves at the first sign of a cold. I put 2-3 drops on my hands and rub it on the back of my neck before I go to bed. I wake up feeling great! Everyone at work has been sick, taking days off, NOT me! I will always have Thieves on hand!

Thank you for coming out and talking with my animals today. That's an amazing talent you have and I'm thankful you share it. It's really helped my relationship with my Arabian gelding and we are getting more connected every day. Thank you also for revealing the mystery and miracle behind my lost Kissa. I miss her every day, but now I won't have to...thank you again.

Thank you for the massage! The Deep Relief Roll-on is awesome and is working great on my rheumatoid arthritis. Thank you!

Jenny, thank you for the Deep Relief! It has been wonderful for my aches & pains; I can really feel it go to work deep in the muscles, relieving the pain & inflammation. It really works better than any other product I've used. The roll-on is great for applying so I don't have to worry about accidentally touching my eyes after using it and I also like the fact it doesn't smell so overwhelming like other over-the-counter products. My son who plays football loves the Deep Relief for his tight muscles and soreness after practices & games. Thanks again!

Thank you for providing animal communication sessions for my dog, Sheba. She had an attitude with me for a couple of weeks and I wanted to get to the bottom of what was wrong. Jenny told me that Sheba was very sick from something and felt disoriented and had extreme vomiting. I was shocked since I hadn't told her about that particular incident that occurred just a couple of weeks prior to this call. I live in southern Florida and in certain times of the year poisonous toads and frogs are out and Sheba was poisoned instantly after jumping on one of them. Sheba pulled through after appropriate treatment, thank goodness. The fact that Jenny was able to get that information amazed me, especially since I hadn't connected the incident with the current issues. Finding out how Sheba felt about that very stressful moment shed a lot of light. Jenny was also able to relay to me that Sheba needed to be walked more often and that the type of food she was getting was not very easy on her belly. So after the much needed insight we were able to change those things that caused our Sheba to have an attitude and it has helped me to better understand her needs in a way that we wouldn't have gotten any other way.

Jenny, you are a phenomenal animal communicator. I was referred by a co-worker, and while I believe in "psychic abilities" if you will, I proceeded with typical apprehension, waiting for you to provide me with solid tidbits about my dogs to prove your worth. You certainly did, so much so that I've become a repeat customer. My dogs are rescues, and your ability to provide insight into their past and their current feelings has given me a greater understanding of their actions and needs. Having multiple dogs, your connection with each of them and how they view each other has extreme value in assisting me with establishing and maintaining pack harmony. Each session continues to amaze me; your ability to connect with my dogs leaves me in awe. Thanks so much. Bitzi, Wanda, Hammer and I look forward to our next time together!

I really like the acne oil, my oldest daughter has really bad acne, & this is the only thing that works to reduce the redness & the length of time of the outbreak! It has been a complete godsend.

Also, I like the Thieves, which we use all the time, for sore throats, cold, etc. My personal favorite is the lavender to help me relax, after working and running my kids around.

Thanks for the suggestion to try Young Living's Acne Serum. I had been struggling with early menopausal symptoms, including unruly breakouts. Nothing was helping no matter what the products claimed. After the first application of the Acne Serum I saw instant results. Now, I always keep a bottle on hand and use it daily. Thanks again for your help and guidance.

It's nice to have reliable insight into my horses' behaviors from an honest communication practitioner. The services that Jenny provides not only helps me better connect with my geldings, but also gives me greater confidence in interpreting their actions.

We had a great time at last weekend's Essential Oils for Dogs class presented by Jenny from Peace of Mind, Body & Soul. One of the best take-aways? Lavender is an extremely versatile oil, able to be used to help dogs with skin allergies and to help calm dogs with anxiety. I look forward to incorporating some of the new information in my own household, as well as with clients!

Jenny,

Thank you for massaging our Pentathlon horse, Reign of Power in May. She was really good for me that evening and probably the best she's been in about five months. Since then (it's now July), we cleared a 3'-0" jump for the first time!! She's very eager to jump and her cantering has been very smooth. She's even been long and low with her neck, which wasn't evident over the winter.

I'm amazed at the difference just one massage has made for her physical well-being and her ability to stay focused. Thank you again!

Jenny is sensitive to the needs and urgency that sometimes her skills are called into action for. I called Jenny to assist in communicating with an animal that had been stolen from her own backyard. From the information Jenny was able to provide from communicating with the stolen pet the owners were able to narrow the search for their stolen Sheltie. After almost a week and a couple of sessions with Jenny the owners found their Sheltie, safe and sound. My friend is forever grateful for the talent and skill Jenny provided on an emergency basis to help bring their beloved little Sheltie home. I would recommend her with high marks. I know Tia the Sheltie does.
